EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The rule revises the competencies required for a reading endorsement. The revisions are based upon the science of reading and are designed to provide teachers a process to identify students with reading difficulties and provide interventions to assist students with all aspects of reading. In order to ensure that programs designed to award reading endorsements or certificates meet the revised standards, school districts and educator preparation programs must submit their programs to the Department by July 1, 2023, for review and approval.
