

Options for Students Who Fail to Earn a Standard High School Diploma

For students who complete the required 24 or 18 credits but fail to pass the required assessments or achieve a 2.0 GPA.

Earn Your Florida High School Diploma – Two Pathways, One Goal!

- Adult High School (AHS) Pathway - Make up missing high school credits and meet graduation testing requirements by either retaking state assessments or earning comparative/concordant scores to graduate with a Florida High School Diploma.
- GED® Preparation Pathway - Attend classes designed to help you build skills and successfully pass all four subtests of the GED® exam. Upon passing the GED® exam, you'll earn a State of Florida High School Diploma.

Registered Apprenticeship Programs

- Some registered apprenticeship programs do not require a standard high school diploma or its equivalent.
- Registered preapprenticeship is a pathway to registered apprenticeship. These programs often help students develop the necessary skills and gain credit toward registered apprenticeship. Registered preapprenticeship program completers earn a preapprenticeship completion certificate credential.

Career Education and Florida College Credit Programs

- In Florida, students who met all the requirements to receive a standard diploma but do not achieve the required GPA per section (s.) 1003.4282, Florida Statutes (F.S.), do not pass the state assessments required under s. 1008.22(3), F.S., or earn a concordant and/or comparative score, are eligible to enroll in career certificate programs at Florida College System institutions.
- Students must also take a common placement test to determine their placement into either college-level or remedial courses.
- Since 2018, Florida colleges and district technical colleges have awarded over 500,000 workforce certificates and degrees. For more information, visit <https://gettherefl.com>.

The GATE Program

- GATE provides a pathway to earn valuable career education credentials while also completing a standard high school diploma or its equivalent.
- Through the GATE program, students can enroll in a Career and Technical Education (CTE) program and an Adult Secondary Education (ASE) program simultaneously. Eligible ASE programs include Adult High School or GED® Preparation. Participants will work toward earning both a high school diploma and a credential from a Career Education Program on the Master Credential list in their chosen career field.
